KITCHEN

COLLECTION 2023

Il gruppo Cubo Design ama le sfide e propone una nuova collezione densa di novità e dettagli di rilevata importanza. Il leitmotiv è il concetto di apertura, inteso come invasione spaziale in ambiti differenti dalla cucina, che genera spazi infiniti e la priva dei suoi confini reali. Una ricca piattaforma con oltre 350 finiture per i frontali, 120 per i piani di lavoro, garantisce un'offerta in grado di soddisfare le differenti richieste estetiche e funzionali che il mercato avanza. Un'eccellenza italiana che si tramanda da generazioni guardando al futuro. Nei primi anni '60 Giuseppe Arangiaro comincia l'avventura. Presto si accorge che il Made in Italy è garanzia di successo, e comincia l'esportazione delle sue creazioni; in pochi anni diventa uno dei maggiori esportatori di cucine componibili, tanto da indurre una multinazionale americana a credere in lui. Certo i tempi cambiano, cambiano i materiali, la richiesta, il design e il gusto. Non cambia, invece, il bisogno di qualità, interesse primario allora come oggi. E oggi c'è Antonio, figlio di Giuseppe, che con la stessa lungimiranza gestisce l'azienda, consapevole che la qualità, l'estro e l'affidabilità dei prodotti italiani offrono ancora garanzie in tutto il mondo. E l'avventura continua, con l'apertura di un nuovo polo produttivo, che integra perfettamente i processi di Industria 4.0, Smart Factory, efficienza energetica e approccio green. Il risultato di questa vision è un polo produttivo avveniristico, in cui i flussi di lavoro sono stati ridisegnati attraverso l'automazione digitale, nell'ottica della massima efficienza. L'energia che muove le imprese e le persone viene prodotta autonomamente e re-impiegata in un circolo virtuoso. Ogni cosa è pensata nel rispetto del pianeta. Ogni sforzo viene fatto per dare un presente migliore alle generazioni future.

The Cubo Design group loves challenges and proposes a new collection full of news and important details. The leitmotiv is the concept of opening, like a spatial invasion in different areas of the kitchen, which generates infinite spaces and deprives its real confines. A rich platform with over 350 finishes for the fronts, 120 for the worktops, guarantees an offer able to meet the different aesthetic and functional requirements that the market is advancing. An Italian excellence passed down through generations with an eye to the future. In the early 1960s, Giuseppe Arangiaro embarked on his endeavor. He soon realized that made in Italy items guaranteed success, so he began exporting his creations; in the space of a few years, he became one of the biggest exporters of modular kitchens, such that his exploits attracted the attention of an American multinational company. Times change, however, alongside materials, demand, design and taste. What doesn't change, though, is the need for quality, an essential requirement then and now. The company is now managed by Antonio, Giuseppe's son, with the same foresightedness and awareness that Italian products - with their creativity and reliability - are still held in high regard throughout the world. Thus the adventure continues with the opening of a new production center, which perfectly integrates the processes of Industry 4.0, Smart Factory, energy efficiency and green approach. The result of this vision is a futuristic production pole, in which the workflows have been redesigned through digital automation, with a view to maximum efficiency. The energy that drives businesses and people is produced autonomously and re-employed in a virtuous circle. Everything is designed with respect for the planet. Every effort is made to give a better present to future generations.
